- II. How to apply for Fulbright Scholar grants
- III. Additional Fulbright Scholar opportunities for U.S. faculty and professionals
- IV. Fulbright Visiting Scholar opportunities

Senator J. William Fulbright (1905-1995)

“In the long course of history, having people who understand your thought is much greater security than another submarine.”

Fulbright Scholar Program

- Established in 1946
- Sends U.S. academics and professionals overseas
- Brings scholars and professionals from abroad to the U.S.
- Sponsored by U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs
- Administered by the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES)

Why Consider a Fulbright?

- Discover new research directions
- Gain new teaching insights
- Share your knowledge
- Understand your discipline in a global context
- Meet international colleagues and establish long-term professional relationships
- Allow family to experience a different culture
- Represent your country!

THE FULBRIGHT EXPERIENCE

WHAT FULBRIGHT SCHOLARS SAY:

- “We are not the first to discover this consequence of the human side of a year in a different culture... we feel like we now have two homes with our feet planted firmly, if precariously, on two sides of the Atlantic.”
- "When you are willing to sit down and exchange questions and answers, make comparisons of what is important, and laugh about the things that just do not translate and never will...you find out all kinds of wonderful things."
- “I had this great opportunity to be a teacher, researcher and an ambassador. It was wonderful.”

Eligibility Requirements

- U.S. citizenship
- A Ph.D. or equivalent professional/terminal degree in your field
- For professionals and artists outside academia, recognized professional standing and substantial accomplishments
- Teaching experience as required by award
- Limits apply to prior Fulbright Scholar grantees

Language Requirements

- English is sufficient for most lecturing awards
- Research awards require knowledge of language as appropriate for project
- Latin American countries may require Spanish or Portuguese
- Francophone Africa generally requires French
- Some awards in the Middle East may require Arabic

Awards in more than 130 Countries

How to Apply for the “Traditional” Fulbright Program

- Go to CIES Web site www.cies.org
 - Use online Catalog of Awards and application
 - Read program overview, Guidelines, Frequently Asked Questions and Tips for Applying
 - Consult Web site for updated award information (DEADLINE AUGUST 1)

Selecting an Award

- Decide if you want to lecture, research or do both
- Check discipline and professional indices
- Read award descriptions and stipend information
- Use an All Discipline award if no specific award matches your expertise
- Check Country Pages on CIES Web site
- Contact CIES program officer(s) for more information about awards and countries

Components of Online Application

- Application Form
- Project Statement
- Curriculum Vitae or Resume
- Course Outlines or Syllabi (for lecturing awards)
- Select Bibliography (for research awards)
- References and Teaching Report
- Supplemental Materials (depending on award)
 - Language Proficiency Report
 - Letter of Invitation
 - Additional Materials for Applicants in the Arts, Architecture, Writing and Journalism

Making Contacts Abroad

- International division of your professional organization
- International office on your campus
- University search Web sites such as:
 - Braintrack - www.braintrack.com
 - Library of Congress Portals to the World -
<http://www.loc.gov/rr/international/portals.html>
 - Online directories of U.S. and Visiting Fulbright Scholars – searchable by discipline and country
- CIES program officer can provide names of institutions that have hosted scholars

Submitting a Competitive Application

- Be sure your expertise matches award and your experience qualifies you for all award activities
- Follow instructions and format precisely
- Write a clear, focused project statement
- Focus on what you plan to DO--not your biography
 - Write so that people outside your field can understand your project and why it is important
 - State contribution to host institution/country and to home institution

- Get three strong, current reference letters
 - One from your supervisor (crucial for a teaching report)
 - One from someone not at your institution
 - One from a colleague who knows your work well
 - Consider how each part of application relates to the whole and supports your candidacy
 - Organize carefully – don't make reviewers search
 - Meet all eligibility requirements and application deadline

TIPS: The Project Statement

- Vital part of a successful application package
- Must be persuasive
- Must explain
 - What the applicant proposes to do
 - How it will be done
 - Why it is important to do it
 - Why the applicant wants to do it

Project Statement: Lecturing Awards

Describe

- What you propose to teach
- What related courses you have taught
- How you will adapt the material and teaching style to fit the different culture and setting
- Why you are suited to this award
 - Draw attention to relevant expertise and experience
 - Show evidence of flexibility and adaptability
- Why you want the experience of teaching in this particular country

Project Statement: Research Awards

Describe

- What you will do and how you will do it
- Why this research is needed; what will be contributed to both countries and the discipline
- Why it must be done in this country
- How you will face the challenge of conducting research in a foreign language, if applicable
- Consider the culture and politics of the host country
- Indicate a dissemination plan for your results

TIPS: For All Awards

- Do your homework: research host country and institution and award particulars
- Limit discussion on project background; use bibliography instead
- Know that collaborative projects are more compelling
- For Lecturing/Research awards, amount of attention in proposal to respective activities should match award description

Review Process and Timetable

- Step 1: Program officers review applications for eligibility, completeness, etc. (August)
- Step 2: Specialist review committees read applications in the arts, hard sciences and professional fields. They provide a preliminary review from a discipline specific perspective (September)
- Step 3: Specialist reviews accompany applications, which are then screened by U.S. peer review committees. Committees represent many disciplines and focus on one world area. (October to December)

- Step 4: Applicants receive notice of their status, either recommended or not recommended (November through January)
 - Step 5: Applications of recommended candidates are forwarded to host countries for selection and to the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board, which has final approval. Applicants are notified as approvals are given (February through May)
 - Step 6: Grant Packets are sent to selected grantees (May through June)
 - Step 7: Enjoy your Fulbright Experience!

What Reviewers Look For

- Suitability for award (match)
- Teaching ability and record
- Publication and scholarly record in relation to career stage
- Applicant's adaptability and cultural sensitivity
- Merits of proposal
 - Innovative project and methodology
 - Feasibility
 - Value to discipline, scholar, host country and institution
- Demonstrated need to be in country for project

Grant Benefits

- Package includes stipend, in-country living allowance, travel for grantee
- Some countries: travel for dependents, dependent schooling, research allowance, book allowance
